

As leaders in the field of cleaning and hygiene consumables and systems we are constantly aware of the demands within the sectors serviced, particularly where food preparation is concerned.

As you may know the Food Standard Agency is driving the Scores on the Doors star rating system, which has already gathered momentum and importance throughout this country.

At CSL we are not just a supply company. Our aim is to target problem areas and resolve issues as cost effectively as possible always with a Health and Safety bias, hence our BICSc-based training programmes which are proving increasingly important within the industry and helping people like yourself improve and maintain your star rating.

By going onto our web site at www.janitorialonline.co.uk you can get a concise overview of all that is available through CSL. Those wishing to phone us may do so on 0161 947 9947 or why not send an e mail to Julie@cleansolutions.co.uk and let us help you kick-START your new hygiene and cleaning procedures NOW !
